Pres. Wahlquist Announces Plan

San Jose State College will go on the semester system in the fall of 1955.

The shocking news was released last night at the quarterly faculty meeting when College President John T. Wahlquist stood before the faculty and told them bluntly that the college would go on the semester system.

"The Presidents' Council has asked me to announce that San Jose State will go on the semester system in the Autumn of 1955," the president said.

He pointed out that in a poll conducted on campus, the faculty favored the change 2 to 1.

"Division heads were about even in the poll," Dr. Wahlquist said, "while the majority of the department heads favored the change."

The main objection to the semester system came from departments which have practice work such as student teaching and journalism internships.

"A combination of theory and practice and study of what other universities and colleges are doing should solve the problem," Dr. Wahlquist said.

Pointing out the advantages of the system, the president said "It will be a great benefit to the administration."

Under the quarter system the administrative offices are under a "50 per cent more work load" because of registration three times a year instead of two.

He added that most texts are designed for semester teaching and that most transfers come from junior colleges on the semester system.

Frosh Discuss Constitution

The Frosh Council met and discussed the report of the class constitution, in a much-heated spirit, with more than double the attendance of the last meeting in the Morris Dailey auditorium yesterday. Natalie Fancher, vice president, presided over the meeting in the absence of President Bob Weiss, who is ill.

Noame Baiza presented the report and following the discussion called for proposals and amendments to be continued at later meetings, Miss Fancher said.

Officials To Select Head Yell Leader

Head yell leader for next year will be selected at the executive meeting of the Rally committee today at 3:30 p.m. in the Student Union, according to Shunji Ito, chairman.

Weather Man Reports Rain; Wear Slickers

Raincoats, rubber boots and galoshes will be the uniform of the day as reports indicate that there will be no relief from the rain and high winds that battered San Jose over the weekend.

Ernest Billwiler, official weather observer for this area, reports that students can expect "Occasional showers with rain increasing today accompanied by high winds. High 52-56, low 43-50."

Work on the four-acre plot that was the former San Jose high school campus came to a halt as a result of the weekend gusts and downpours, according to Byron Bollinger, superintendent of construction.

Fertilizer was being spread in preparation for planting the grass seed, he said, but this has been stopped because of the muddy condition of the field.

Bollinger would not comment when work would resume, because, he said, "It depends on whether or not more rain falls and just how long it takes for the ground to dry."

Otherwise results of the storm were light, with no other damage reported.

Miss Margaret M. Twombly, director of Student Health Service, reports that there are actually fewer cases of colds because of the storms.

This is because the weather is more stable and students stay inside out of the rain and cold.

Hearing Scheduled For Student Court

Hearing of Al Stones' case will be on the agenda at the meeting of the Student Court tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in the Student Union, according to Stan Croonquist, chief justice.

Stones is charged with two violations of the election code, having posters in illegal locations and not taking them down before the deadline.

Heart Attack Kills College Adviser

Ruel J. Taylor, college plant adviser for the state department of education, died Sunday in Sacramento after suffering a heart attack. Taylor, who visited the SJS campus many times, attended a conference here last Thursday considering building plans for the proposed library, gym and science buildings.

Funeral arrangements are scheduled for tomorrow in Sacramento.

80 Sophs Attend Big 'Chat'n Chew'

Approximately 80 sophomores attended the "Chat'n Chew" meeting of the social program committee yesterday in the Student Union, according to Don Fletcher, soph class president.

Slides were shown depicting the history of the class and soph officers were introduced.

Current school year funds provided facilities for 7000 students.

In spite of this, college officials were required to submit a budget for the next year based on an equivalent enrollment of 6000 full-time students, because of the enrollment limit placed on the college by the Strayer Report. (This Continued on Page 2)

Big Name Band To Play at Dance

Jerry Gray and his orchestra, one of the biggest name bands on the West Coast, has been officially signed to play for the SJS Wintermist dance, Feb. 5, at the Civic auditorium, Vern Perry, SAC chairman, announced yesterday.

Gray, former arranger for the late Glenn Miller's orchestra, has a style similar to that of Miller. He arranged such numbers as In the Mood, String of Pearls, Chattanooga Choo Choo, and Moonlight Serenade, Miller's theme song.

Featured vocalist with the 14-piece orchestra is Carol Lee. Miss Lee has headlined at Ciro's and the Palladium in Los Angeles and once starred with Harry James' band.

Gray got his start with the Miller band when Ray Anthony and Billy May also were with him. He now records for Decca. Gray closes at the Ambassador Hotel in Los Angeles a week before traveling here for Wintermist. He will play one night at the Club Alhambra in Oakland and return south to open Wednesday, Feb. 10, at the Palladium in Los Angeles.

Final contracts were drawn yesterday after several weeks delay. Perry said the delay was due to lack of open dates in the Bay Area.

Social Affairs committee expects a crowd of over 5000 at the Wintermist ball.

San Jose Budget Plea Wins Knight's Support

Pleas of the College Advisory board for a budget large enough to accommodate the equivalent of 7000 full-time students at San Jose State during the 1954-55 school year have the support of Gov. Goodwin Knight, according to State Senator John F. Thompson (R) of Evergreen.

Senior Council Plans Speakers

Speakers were selected for the senior orientation program by the Senior Class council at their Monday afternoon meeting.

Those picked are Dr. John Wahlquist, Dr. Arturo Fallico, Dr. James DeVoss, Dr. William Vatcher, Senator Jack Thompson, William Winters, senior variety show; Harold E. Miller, Lex Miller, San Jose businessmen and a description of hoods and robes, according to Bill Hushaw, class president.

Pat Stuart, class vice president, reported on Senior Ball committee plans. The dance is tentatively scheduled for June 11 or 12.

Juniors Sponsor Joint Council Meet

A four-way class council meeting sponsored by the Junior Class council is scheduled for Monday at 4 p.m., it was learned at yesterday's meeting held in Room 127.

The current topics of discussion and the problems of each council are to be given consideration.

Joan Uhrich was elected representative to the Student Council.

A first-place trophy was presented the Junior class for winning the 1953 blood drive contest.

A hectic week of sorority rushing is now over, and although women Greeks and rushees are dead tired, Panhellenic sororities have chosen 247 pledges. Following is a list of sororities and pledges submitted by Margee McCall, Panhellenic rush captain.

'Go Get 'Em State'

Despite rumors of disorganization in the Rally committee, things went fairly smoothly at the COP game Friday night, considering. There were three or four good "Go Get 'Em State"s and a few half-hearted clapping songs. There was even a band. While not the good ole' slapstick kind, it did manage a few hearty "ompahs" along with two energetic "Fight on For San Jose State's."

The team lost another close one, but it didn't discourage the rooters. It was standing room only and even that at a premium.

We have two more suggestions to the Rally committee: (1) Place the band on the balcony in the end-zone—the acoustics aren't very good in the gym, and the band sounded worse than it really was because of the position in which it was; (2) Make the yells short and snappy . . . just a few words . . . hell, why not write some new ones, anyway?

Education Best Way to Save US Democracy

"The safety and perpetuity of our democracy depends upon the education of its citizenry," San Jose State College President John T. Wahlquist said yesterday in the keynote talk of the National Resources Conference.

President Wahlquist stressed the importance of education in the life of the modern American as the two-day conference started, under the auspices of the Industrial College of the Armed Forces. "Human resources are our greatest resources. The most hopeful thing in America today is the attention we are giving to the task of developing leaders—scientists, social scientists, business leaders, labor leaders, teachers.

"The fate of our commonwealth should not be left to the unlettered and unschooled. Democratic man needs his wits sharpened, his horizons lifted, his privileges extolled, and his responsibilities emphasized. This is the great task of education," Wahlquist concluded.

SJS Requests Larger Budget

is a report of Dr. George Strayer of Columbia University concerning facilities for higher education in California.

The plea for the supplementary budget for 1000 students is in the form of a mimeographed fact sheet concerning college enrollment trends in California and costs of instruction at San Jose State, contrasted with costs at other state-supported institutions.

Requests for the increased ceiling on enrollment were made after the enrollment problem was studied by the Council of State College Presidents, the State Departments of Education and Finance, and the Legislative Auditor.

Original fund requests for next year were $3,909,968 for an enrollment of 6000, or a cost of $652 per student. The supplemental funds needed to provide for the equivalent of 7000 full-time students increased the proposed budget only $80,000 and decrease the cost per student to $570.

The Advisory board points out in the fact sheet that the larger items in the budget (administration, building maintenance, etc.) remain constant and instructional costs increase only slightly because a majority of the 1000 additional students would be absorbed in existing classes.

College-age population in California will reach 1,000,000, triple the present number, by 1970, and San Jose State, and all other state colleges, will soon exceed the enrollment limits imposed by the Strayer Report, according to the fact sheet.

San Jose State, being the oldest and largest of the state colleges, is the first to feel the effect of increasing numbers of college-age persons.

Stricter admission requirements will be placed in effect at San Jose next year, even though the enrollment ceiling is increased to 7000.

The Advisory board, in summing up its plea for increased enrollment limits, asks, "At what other school can additional students be absorbed at such low cost?"

The fact sheet then lists costs per student statistics for state-supported institutions ranging from a high of $1387 per student at Humboldt to $609 per student at San Francisco State.

Costs per student at San Jose State during the current school year are $561 per student.

Manager To Tell Of Bureau Work

Cagers To Play Fresno Tonight in Bulldog Gym

San Jose State's cellar-dwelling Spartans step out of CBA competition tonight when they attempt to tame the Fresno State Bulldogs in the latter's gym. Tip-off time is 8:20 o'clock.

With forward Bud Hjelm, who potted 27 points against College of Pacific Friday night, reaching his potential against the Tigers, Walt McPherson, Golden Raider mentor, has added hopes of ending San Jose's four-game losing streak.

Williams Greets 35 Diamond Prospects At Initial Workout

The baseball future of Sparta was unveiled yesterday afternoon when Coach Walt Williams sent 35 aspiring players through the first practice drills of the season.

Two big question marks have become the main topic on the diamond since last June. Bob Poole, catcher, and Cookie Camara, shortstop, left positions that will be difficult to fill, but Mal Leal, letterman from last season, should be ready to handle the backstop chores.

Jack Richards, who lettered at third base last year, will be given a chance to try the shortstop duties. Behind him are several transfers and players from last season's frosh squad.

Williams commented that the pitching department looks the strongest on the team with Johnny Oldham, Doug Boehmer and Ron Kauffman the mainstays. Oldham was mentioned on several All-Coast selections in his past two years of activity for the Spartans.

The first week of practice will be devoted to conditioning, bunting and sliding. The second week will be given over to hitting with the squad being cut to 25 players one week from Friday. The first game is against Alameda Naval Air station on March 3.

Sign-up for Tennis

Sign-ups for the all-college men's doubles tennis tournament, which begins next Monday, will be accepted through Friday of this week, according to Tennis Coach Hugh Mumby.

Anyone interested in competing in the tourney should sign up at Friday night's overflow crowd of spectators who witnessed Hjelm's change of form also put their stamp of approval on his new-found style, at least those prejudiced toward the hometowners. It was Bud's jump shots from the free throw line that kept the Spartans in the contest.

Carroll Williams, held to nine points against the Tigers, still leads California Basketball Association scores with a 16.3 average. Wee Willie has tallied 65 points in four outings.

McPherson named his probable starting line-up as Hjelm and Tor Hansen at forwards; Don Fausset at center; and Williams and Bob Bondanza at guards. McPherson hinted that Merle Flattley, Tom Crane, and Bill Brunberg, after their fine play against COP, probably would be due for some action.

Coached by Clark Van Galder, who also tutors the grid forces, the Fresno quintet has lost twice to Santa Clara, twice to USC, once to Cal Poly and split a pair of games with San Francisco State. In comparison, San Jose defeated San Francisco State twice, nipped Cal Poly by a point, but also lost to the Broncos and Dons.

Van Galder, who usually employs a fast-break brand of basketball, probably will have three former Sequoia Junior College stars off last season's team in his starting line-up. They are Don Boline, 6 ft. 3 in., and Rolland Todd, 5 ft. 11 in., at forwards and 6 ft. 1 in. Leroy Mims at guard. Other starters probably will be Dale Arambel, a fancy ball handler at guard, and Hugh Schaffer, 6 ft. 6 in., two year vet, at center.

Dink Clark's sports shop at 6th and San Carlos Sts., across from the college.

Sparta Guard Retains Hold On CBA Lead

Carroll Williams, retaining his hold on No. 1 spot, and Bud Hjelm, moving into the top ten for the first time, highlighted this week's California Basketball Association statistics released by Danny Hill, league secretary.

Williams, held to nine points against COP but scoring 23 earlier in the week against USF, has a four-game total of 65 points for a 16.3 average. Jim Young, Santa Clara forward, is his closest rival with 58 markers for a 14.5 clip.

Bud Hjelm moved into the No. 6 position by bucketing 27 points against COP Friday night to elevate his total output to 48 in four tilts for a 12-point norm.

Al Mangin, COP, and Bill Russell, USF center, sport the loop's best averages, 17.3 and 17.0 respectively, but these were collected in three contests. Loop leaders are based on total points.

Gymnastics Team To Meet Tonight

The college gymnastics team, under the guidance of Coach Hugh Mumby, will hold a pre-season meeting tonight in the small gym to discuss plans for its Jan. 28 opener here with Stanford.

Tonight's meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Mumby said yesterday that some of the members have been working out on their own time, but practice will not officially begin until after this evening's talk.

The coach explained that gymnastics is one sport in which freshmen are allowed to enter varsity competition.

Mumby has lined up a seven-meet season which includes home-and-home affairs with Stanford and Cal Poly, two meets with San Francisco Olympic Club, and one match at San Diego State.

in., at forwards and 6 ft. 1 in. Leroy Mims at guard. Other starters probably will be Dale Arambel, a fancy ball handler at guard, and Hugh Schaffer, 6 ft. 6 in., two year vet, at center.

SPARTAN DAILY 3

Adkins, Underwood Box Tonight in Local Bout

Chuck Adkins, San Jose State's greatest all-time ringman, will make his local professional debut against a seasoned veteran, Jesse Underwood, in the main card on tonight's March of Dimes boxing program at the Civic Auditorium. The preliminaries will start at 8:30.

For Adkins, who is undefeated in seven bouts since turning pro, it will be his first 10-round affair.

Underwood, who has been up against several of the world's greatest in his class, is a replacement for Bobbie Why, who came down with an illness. Underwood has faced the present world's lightweight champion, Jimmy Carter, Sandy Saddler, former champ, and Eddie Chavez, a top-ranking contender from San Jose.

Two weeks ago in Kansas City Underwood won a decision over Billy Bickel, a 1953 Olympic Games teammate of Adkins.

While he was boxing under the late Dee Portal for San Jose State in 1952, Adkins had a difficult time finding opponents of his caliber. That year he won everything in sight, which included the PCI and NCAA 139-lb. class championships. He then went to Finland where he won the light-welterweight Olympic title by pouncing out a decision over Russia's Viktor Mednov.

In 1953, Adkins was coach for the San Jose State ring squad.

The attraction appears to be a sellout. Many San Jose State students are expected at ringside.

Of his seven professional bouts, Adkins has scored five knockouts and won two decisions. His record is as follows:

Stopped Jack Gathoff, first round, Indianapolis; stopped Frank O'Neill, third round, Saginaw, Mich.; stopped Johnny Valentine, third round, Detroit; stopped Jimmy Sparks, third round, Detroit; decisioned Eddie

CHUCK ADKINS

Brant, six rounds, Fort Wayne, Ind.; decisioned Tommy Maddox, eight rounds, Chicago. In his latest match he knocked out Isaac Vaughn, 1953 AAU junior welterweight champion, who had been unbeaten as a professional.

Date Set for Dedication Of Engineering Building

The date and program for the dedication of the Engineering building have been approved by President John T. Wahlquist, Dr. Ralph Smith, head of the Engineering department, announced.

The theme for the dedication will be, "The Relationship of Engineering at San Jose State to Industries in the Bay Area." Date has been set for February 25.

Dr. A. B. Greninger, manager of engineering for the General Electric Hanford Works in Washington, will be the principal speaker on the dedication program. Dr. Greninger, an authority on nuclear energy, will speak on "The Future of Nuclear Energy in American Industry."

In line with the theme, President Wahlquist will discuss San Jose State's place in the community.

Jack Furey, president of the Engineering Society, is supervising the make-up and printing of a special illustrated brochure describing the Engineering program and facilities at San Jose State. The brochure will act as a program for the dedication ceremonies.

Jay Johnson was named editor for the special brochure and Clyde Allen and Wallace Coker were named to solicit participation of local industries in the venture. Prof. James Anderson is faculty adviser.

Soph, Junior Election Forms Available Soon

Applications for election petitions will be available Monday, Feb. 1, at 8 a.m. in the ASB office of the Student Union, according to Stan Croonquist, chief justice.

Sophomore and junior classes will elect full slates of officers: president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

Senior officers will not be elected. According to Croonquist, an amendment from the senior class was passed last October which provides for the seniors to be elected during the fall quarter and serve the entire college year.

The following representatives to the Student Council will be elected.

Dr. Reitzel said the drawing was taken from an art exhibit over three years ago. A note said:

"Found drawing in locker about three years ago and never did know who it belonged to until I saw article in Spartan Daily. Hope drawing gets to rightful owner. Signed, a student."

A Little Hasty

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18—Ella Moody, chief of the local marriage license bureau, apologized to all newlyweds today who she accidentally congratulated for becoming parents.

It has been her practice, she said, to inclose with each marriage license a letter from the Treasury Department urging the newly-married couples to purchase savings bonds.

Last week, however, she received different letters from the department and issued several which read in part:

"Please accept our warmest congratulations on the birth of your child . . ."

"I wish to apologize," she said today, "but it really was the Treasury Department's fault for sending me the wrong letters."
